How to search for articles in Web of Science
1. Go to University of Malaya Library website at https://umlib.um.edu.my/ and click on “Online Databases”

2. Log in to Interaktif Portal with your Library ID/Library barcode (E.g. X51234567)
3. Click “DATABASES” to get list of databases subscribed by the Library

4. From Databases List, scroll down and find Web of Science
5. Click on “Select a database” and choose "Web of Science Core Collection"
6. Click "More Settings" and check(✓) the following “Web of Science Core Collection: Citation Indexes” ONLY:

- Science Citation Index Expanded (SCI-EXPANDED)
- Social Sciences Citation Index (SSCI)
- Arts & Humanities Citation Index (A&HCI)

* as of now “Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI) is not considered ISI databases by Univ Malaya
7. You can choose any search fields available in the drop-down menu (e.g. Topic, Title, Author, Publication Name, etc.) and click “Search” button
Click "Add row" if necessary

You can combine fields together using the AND, OR, NOT drop-down menus on the lefthand side of each search box
8. The summary of your search query is shown at the top of the screen. You may refine your search by selecting elements from "Refine Results" on the left column (if necessary):
9. Click on the relevant title to view full record of the article:

* “Full Text from Publisher” – fulltext from this link is only available if the journal is subscribed by the Library.

* “Look Up Full Text” – fulltext from this link is only available if the article is open access
10. Click Export to save this article in EndNote, Publons or in other format for further use.
11. You may also save multiple articles at once. Select the articles by checking the box next to the record (or you may select all/page) and click "Add to Marked List"
12. The screen shows all your selected records in "Marked List"

13. Click on "Marked List" at the top of the screen to view your marked records
14. Click on “Save” button to save your marked list

15. Give a name and description to your “Save Marked List” and click “Save”
16. To print, export, email or save the articles to various sources, you can follow the instructions below:
17. Importing References into EndNote Desktop.
   - From the “Export” button, choose "EndNote Desktop"
   - Then click “Save" and open the file
The references will be imported into the EndNote library that is currently open. If none is open you will be prompted to select the EndNote library you want to use.

The references are automatically added to your library and also appear in the Imported References group on the left-side panel.
18. Copying Bibliographies:

- First select the references within your EndNote library
- Select the style you want to use from the toolbar at the top then click “Choose”
- From the "Edit" menu choose "Copy Formatted"
- Choose a location to "paste" the records you have copied (E.g. Microsoft Word)
- Paste the records in the destination source
